Here's the report I got. Update on the Dixie Fire on HWY 70 east of Cresta Dam, fire still holding with retardant at just under 2 acres. Firefighters are still attempting to make ground access. Per [redacted] a Tman is in route from Chico to open SSD 941 on the Bucks Creek 1101 for firefighter safety. There is little to no comms with ground personnel so information is limited.

This was a little earlier. You can see location in maps plus. Per PSS [redacted] who's enroute, Fire's approximately 2 acres in size, slow rate of spread, with air tankers working to contain it. Actual location is at the maps + pin below 39.874739, -121.378188 OR "Open in Maps app":
